

Manostar switch MS30 •MS61A •MS65

Notice of end of production

The Manostar Gauge MS30 •MS61A •MS65, which has been patronized for many years, has been discontinued due to the difficulty in maintaining the production system due to the decrease in production volume and the aging of molds and production equipment. In the future, we will respond as follows, so we apologize for the inconvenience, but thank you for your kind support.

■ Reason for discontinuation

Because Azbil Corporation has discontinued the production of the microswitch installed in the Manostar switch.

■ Last accepted date

Friday, December 29, 2017

※ Please note that sales may be discontinued as soon as the microswitch stock runs out even during the maintenance period.

As we get closer to the deadline, it is expected that the number of orders will increase and the delivery date will take longer than usual, so please place your order as soon as possible.

■ Maintenance period

Repair correspondence is until the end of December 2024.

※ Please note that in some cases materials may not be procured and repairs may not be possible even during the maintenance period.

■ Successor model

New product MS99.

※ Please note that there are parts that differ from the specifications of WO70.
